READY TO IMPROVE STREETS

Complete Sewer System Will Soon
Be Provided for Dingee Park Addition.

Although a considerable amount of business had been scheduled for the adjoined session of the Council Monday evening, the meeting closed at an unusually early hour. Consideration of the garbage ordinance, the chief reason for holding the meeting, was not touched upon. This was largely due to the unavoidable absence of Trustee Rice, chairman of the committee on public health, who has had general charge of the work. When the meeting was called to order by Chairman Merrill and Clerk Plump called the roll, Trustee Rice failed to answer to his name, and it was explained that he was absent from the city. At the same time Trustee Hynding stated that he was somewhat indisposed and desired to complete the business of the meeting as early as possible.

As soon as the preliminary business had been disposed, Burrell G. White was granted permission to address the Council. He stated that he was the owner of a portion of the old Britton property, lying just north of the city limits and near Cordillero creek, fronting on the County Road. In this section there are a considerable number of residents whose business and interests were tributary to town. He appeared in person in behalf as well as his own, with a request that some action should be taken looking to the construction of a bridge over Cordillero creek, for the accommodation of this community. This is especially desired in order to avoid the present difficult and dangerous entrance from this point, on account of the railroad crossing. If the improvement suggested could be made, Mr. White promised that both himself and several of the neighbors stood ready to bear any reasonable portion of the expense. Chairman Merrill called the attention of Mr. White to the fact that a portion of the property necessary for an approach to the bridge had never been dedicated as a public highway, and that this fact would prevent definite action at this time.

Charles Luecher, who for some time past has been occupying a portion of the city property, in the rear of the Town Hall, for an automobile garage, presented a communication offering to rent the land occupied by him at an annual rental of $12. With this he inclosed a check for the amount of one year's rent, but failed to state as to whether the sum tendered was for the past or future. The disposition of some of the Trustees was in favor of receiving the check and applying on account of rental for the time the ground has been occupied in the past, but as it was considered to be a tender for the future it was ordered returned. The Clerk was also directed to notify Mr. Luecher to vacate the city property within 30 days, and to restore the fencing which he had removed.

Street Superintendent Dickey presented a copy of the specifications for the laying of a sewer system in Dingee Park, stating that the owners of the property desired to commence the work of laying the system immediately and wished permission to make temporary connection with the present city sewer at Eighth and Arguello streets. Some time in the near future, it was explained, it was intended to lay a 16-inch outlet, and as this would necessitate tearing up a portion of the improved street a second time, some little opposition to the plan developed. It was explained that to delay the entire system until the permanent main could be provided would work serious hardship. After the reading of the specifications, which are similar to those under which the city system was constructed, the permits desired were granted.

Chairman Merrill suggested a plan by which the difficulties in the improvement of district No. 9 may be avoided. Because of a number of errors which crept into the plans and specifications in the early part of the proceedings, the present Trustees have been much worried over the problem of avoiding unnecessary expense to the property owner and at the same time steering clear of legal technicalities. Under the plan proposed contractors will only be asked to bid for furnishing and placing the foundation rock. The remainder of the work will be done under the direct supervision of the city.

The Clerk was directed to secure bids for the furnishing of a sprinkling wagon.
The new wagon will have a capacity of about 800 gallons and will use a steel tank. For temporary use, while cleaning the streets, a wagon will be borrowed from the city.

It was decided to change the name of North street to South street. The change was made in order to avoid confusion, the street being in the extreme southern part of the city.

Paola Demartini was granted a retail liquor license for the saloon at 200 Argnello street, formerly owned by W. D.

Kearns. When the application was presented, Chairman Merrill stated that a short time ago complaints had been made against the conduct of the place.
In company with Trustee Rice, he had made an investigation of the matter.
Mr. Demartini denied that he had sold liquor to intoxicated persons, and said he did not intend to allow boys to congregate in front of the place, and that his reason for taking personal charge of the saloon was that he might be in a position to more thoroughly enforce these rules.

C. E. Culberson, who was among the spectators at the meeting, called the attention of the Trustees to the efficient work of the Fire Department. He especially praised the prompt work of the firemen at the recent fire on Broadway.
Following his remarks, a resolution was adopted directing the Clerk to express to the Department the thanks of the Council for their devotion to public interests.

Women Discuss School Methods.

BELMONT, March 31.—Belmont school was the scene of a very pleasant affair last Friday afternoon, with the teachers, Miss A. L. Hammerson, and Mrs. A. E. Thomas, as hostesses.
The occasion was a "Mothers Meeting", held for the purpose of discussing various plans in connection with the school and children. The principal matter talked of was a plan for a school and county picnic to be given by the Belmont school, May 15th, at Congress Springs. All were very much in favor of the plan, which had already been talked over by teachers and trustees. After deciding this matter refreshments were served, and the rest of the time was spent in viewing the colored produce maps and drawings of the various grades. The school has been much improved since its energetic board of trustees, P. A. Roussel, Wm. Pul-ian and B. F. Yount took office and they are doing all in their power to make it one of the best in the county.
Those present were, Mrs. W. A. Emmett, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Hermann, Mrs. O. Hoffmann, Mrs. M.
Hoffmann, Mrs. P. A. Roussel, Mrs.
Hammerson, Mrs. Rich, Mrs. A. Johnson, Mrs. F. Johnson, Mrs. Hildebrecht, Mrs. Horter, Mrs. Smit th, Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Boulware.

Chamberlain Will Play Ball.

"Play ball" the umpire will call out next Sunday at 2:30 and P. P.
Chamberlain will step into the pitcher's box and A. D. Walsh will take his place behind the plate.
Chamberlain will take the ball and after giving it a few mysterious twists will send it ricocheting across the plate. Walsh will catch it, of course. The striker will not attempt to locate the ball in fact he will not be able to see it, but Walsh will have no difficulty in finding the flying sphere. In days ago when the old "Pacific" held the championship, there were none who could outdo Andy in the national game. At the instant the ball crosses "home" the band will strike up "Hall to the Heroes". The baseball season will be officially opened and Chamberlain and Walsh will retire.

The game next Sunday will be between the locals and the White House team of San Francisco. Oscar Comper and Fred Barg will twirl and Charles Cyrran will catch. Seats will be 25 cents, ladies and children free.

Will Barg, who is managing the home team is sparing no pains to arrange an interesting series of games for the public. He has had the grounds placed in fine condition.

Conference Location Selected.

As a result of a tour of inspection made to this county by the Rev.
Dis. Dile, Bane and Hough of San Francisco, Hutsinmiller and Wright of Oakland and Neetham and Hammond of Berkeley on February 23, the future center of activities on the part of the Methodist sect of this state promises to be located at Belmont. It is given out that payment of $25,000 has been made for the purpose of securing an option on 160 acres of the S. M. Mezes estate, where the future Methodist conference home will be located.

For a number of years that institution has been located at Pacific Grove, where it acted as an important factor in the upbuilding of the seaside resort. On account of the inaccessibility of that place for a number of ministers whose presence was required at the meetings held there and a controversy with the Southern Pacific over railroad rates, and with its allied corporation, the Pacific Improvement Company, over concessions, the Methodists decided to seek a new location.

It is proposed to erect a conference hall at this point, which will be surrounded by a number of summer building sites.

The Halfmoon Bay Review says:

Railway. No other section of California of the same area has done as well."

WRANGLE OVER PROHIBITION

Men Of Millions Were Not Numbered Among Those Whose Labors Made the Wilds Blossom.

About midnight of May 19th, 1859, the home of Messrs. Coulter and Marvin, situated in the San Andreas Valley, was destroyed by fire under distressing circumstances. Apparently the fire started in the kitchen from the pipe, and as the house was built of redwood and cloth lined, the flames spread with great rapidity, reaching the rooms of the sleeping occupants before any were awakened, and allowing no time for an attempt to save anything, even clothing. Mrs. Coulter was driven out clad only in her night-dress, and suffering from the cold wind of the night made an attempt to reach some clothing which lay near a window. In doing this her hands were severely lacerated.
The house, into which the people had just moved, was not of great value, but its contents comprised the total belongings of the unfortunate people, valued about $1200. The only thing recovered from the ruins the following morning was a small sum of money, which had been placed between two mattresses and was not damaged.

Up to this time it is evident that the city was without the benefit of fraternal organization of any character, a fact upon which the editor commented on several occasions with apparent regret, dwelling on the value of fraternities to any community, both from a social and beneficial standpoint. That the appeal for fraternity was soon to bear fruit is evidenced from the fact that in the issue of May 21st, of the same year appears a notice requesting all Odd Fellows in San Mateo county in good standing to meet at the Courthouse on Sunday, May 28th, for the purpose of taking steps for the organization of a lodge.
In the following issue is a notice requesting "member of the fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons desirous of joining in the organization of a lodge of the Order to be established in Redwood City to meet at the Courthouse on Sunday, June 12th, 1859, for the purpose of making the preliminary arrangements." Subsequent notices called for meetings of the members of both of these orders on Sunday, the 26th day of June, for the same purpose. The meeting of the Odd Fellows was called for 12 o'clock, the Masons meeting at 3 the same afternoon.

Evidently all was not love and harmony among the members of the newspaper fraternity of the State at this time, for about this date is published the following editorial paragraph: "The contemptible literary THIEF who talks of justice and hemp in the same sentence, thus foreshadowing his deserved end, is 'heretofore notified' not to show his ugly mug in these parts."

The "Pacific Agricultural Society" was organized at a meeting held at the Courthouse in this city on August 16th.
At this meeting a constitution and by-laws were adopted and officers elected as follows: Hon. T. G. Phelps, president; John Cummings, 1st vice-president; D. W. Connelly, 2d vice-president; J. H. Curtis, secretary; George H. Howard, treasurer; D. S. Cook and J. R. Weeks, directors. The object of the society was for the holding of at least one market fair each year, for the sale or exchange of any articles the members might desire to exhibit for that purpose.

The State election was held September 7th, resulting in the election of the Democratic ticket, both State and county. Among other results of this election was a verification of the claim that at the election for the organization of the county, held but a few months previous, ballot-box stuffing had been carried on to a very large extent. Although the contest was one calculated to bring out the entire political strength of the county, but 968 votes were cast, according to the official returns, as against double that number at the county election.

According to the assessment roll for the year 1859, the total valuation of the property of the county was $1,490,407, of which $618,666 was the value of real estate, this being assessed to 213 persons, while the total number of names on the assessment roll was 523. The total tax rate was $1.55 on the $100.

Evidently San Mateo county was not the home of millionaires during the earlier portion of its history. About this time it seems to have become a practice among papers in various portions of the State to brag of the number of well-to-do men residing in their counties, and in proof of their assertions to publish a list of men assessed for property valued at $10,000 or more. As a showing of the wealth of this county a list was published on October 10th, made up from the assessment roll, giving the names of men assessed for over $10,000. This list contained 31 names, the largest holder be-

What Are the Consequences?

The much discussed "graft" cases in this county have come to an end, with results not at all surprising to those well informed as to the affairs of this community. From the time of the filing of the charges by the Grand Jury, it has been predicted that the prosecution was certain to result in a failure to substantiate the accusations. Especially has this sentiment gained ground from the time of the prompt acquittal by a jury of District Attorney Bullock of a charge based upon practically the same transaction.

Supervisors Blackburn and Coleman have much cause for congratulation over the result. While they have always retained the esteem of their friends, who were loth to believe that men of the well known private probity of these gentlemen could be guilty of official wrongdoing, even their enemies, political or personal, must now admit that they have made a serious mistake in attempting to smirch their public record.

In the case of Supervisors Blackburn and Coleman, at least, there can be no possible suspicion of bias or collusion upon the part of the men who by their verdict have declared them innocent of attempted official corruption. The Judge before whom the case was heard is not a resident of this county, and as far as is known does not even enjoy an acquaintance with either of the men. The jury, in whose hands rested the decision of the case upon the evidence submitted, were almost equally strangers, having been selected from portions of the county where the defendants were the least acquainted. That the Elisor who made the selection of the jury was not prejudiced in favor of the men before the Court has been admitted even by those interested in the prosecution. That these twelve men weighed carefully the facts presented to them is evidenced by the fact that two hours were consumed in reaching a verdict.

Unfortunately, the results of the misdirected accusations have but fairly commenced, as far as the people of San Mateo are concerned. Already laden with a sufficiently heavy burden of cost of public support, the taxpayer will now find himself confronted with a still further demand. The prosecution of these cases has necessarily involved a very considerable expense. This added burden must be borne by the taxpayer, who must now be the sufferer.

This fact should serve as a warning to future grand juries. In cases of this character, involving the records of public officials, the utmost care should be taken in the consideration of the evidence brought to the attention of the inquisitorial body. These cases involve too much to be dealt with lightly. Heed must not be given to every unconsidered innuendo, nor must rumors, whose origin are too often the result of political enmity, be allowed to sway calm judgment.

While the expense of these trials will be considerable, this is by far the least burden placed upon the people of the county. A far more serious injury has been done by the efforts of a certain class of so-called newspapers to secure what they deemed to be "sensational stories." Especially has this been true of the papers of San Francisco, which by all matter of right should have displayed a spirit of fairness, if not of friendliness, to a neighboring community, whose interests are identified with their own. Through the misdirected efforts of these journals this county has been maligned to an extent which must result in a considerable detriment in its progress. Through their misdirected efforts, the county has been advertised to the world as the very hot bed of corruption, both official and otherwise. And apparently this has been done deliberately and without attempt to secure facts or to verify statements. The records of the county have been garbled and its officials deliberately misquoted. Every rumor which could be construed to the detriment of the public record of the county or the character of its officials has been seized upon with avidity by these vampires, without the slightest attempt to secure verification of the statements. The course of these papers should be frowned upon by every citizen who is the welfare of the county at heart. That it is not only the right, but the duty, of every public journal to expose wrong and must be submitted that the facts crime, no one will question, but it should be first ascertained, so that neither private character nor public reputation may be injured.

However, the case is now ended, and the results beyond recall. Let us face the future, with a determination to do the best for the advancement of the interests of our county. Political differences and factional feelings—which at best but create heartburnings and animosities among men—should be dropped. Let us labor together untidily for the moral and social betterment of our community, and for the advancement of the material interests of our favored section. If we but set ourselves assiduously to this task, we will find an abundant field for our labors, and will have but little time to devote to the individual differences with our neighbors.

Wedding Follows Divorce.

Mrs. Marie Pattolsen was granted a final decree of divorce from her husband, J. W. Pattolsen, by Judge Buck Monday. On account of a bitter fight over the property the granting of the decree was delayed since last August. Pattolsen, who conducted a large furniture business in San Francisco and owned a fine home in San Mateo, caused a sensation by eloping with his stenographer, Miss Sophie Knelist, with whom he traveled to Europe. Since the return of the couple to California they have resided at San Rafael. On the same day Mrs. Pattolsen was granted her divorce Pattolsen and his affinity were made husband and wife by a Santa Rosa Judge.
